ELSEVIER

Ocean & Coastal Management, Vol. 31, Nos 2–3, pp. 259–260, 1996
Elsevier Science Ltd
Printed in Northern Ireland

Contents of Volume 31

Number 1

1 The Rio Principles and our responsibilities of ocean stewardship
J. M. VAN DYKE

25 Ocean management policy development in subnational units of government: examples from the United States
M. J. HERSHMAN

41 Acoustic methods of reducing or eliminating marine mammal–fishery interactions: do they work?
T. A. JEFFERSON & B. E. CURRY

Recent developments and announcements

71 The 29th Annual Conference of The Law of The Sea Institute
S. ALLEN

75 Book review

79 Book review

Numbers 2–3

SPECIAL ISSUE: SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT AT THE REGIONAL LEVEL: THE MEDITERRANEAN

81 Introduction to special issue on sustainable development at the regional level: the Mediterranean
A. VALLEGA

83 Paying to protect the commons: lessons from the Regional Seas Programme
P. A. VERLAAN & A. S. KHAN

105 The Mediterranean: vulnerability to coastal implications of climate change
R. J. NICHOLLS & F. M. J. HOOZEMANS

133 The Mediterranean Action Plan phase II and the revised Barcelona Convention: new prospective for integrated coastal management in the Mediterranean region
A. PAVASOVIC

183 Education for sustainable development of the Mediterranean: the missing link
A. CHIRCOP

199 Geographical coverage and effectiveness of the UNEP Convention on the Mediterranean
A. VALLEGA

219 The role of the European Community in the Mediterranean coastal zone management
S. BELFIORE